To Whom It May Concern

I have known Jean-Paul Bardez since 1991. At the time - and until June 1993 - I was the manager of Digitext SARL, the French subsidiary of a UK company providing documentation services and personnel, mainly to the computer and telecommunications industries. (In June 1993, the French subsidiary was closed.)

Jean-Paul Bardez worked as a contract technical author through Digitext for Spie Batignolles and Spie Trindel, from October 1991 to March 1993. He wrote user documentation for cash-flow management, stock, financial and accounting applications, using Word 5 for DOS. On some of these projects, he worked alone. On others, he acted as team leader and Digitext representative: he designed a style sheet, developed Word macros, and trained two technical authors and a number of engineers on the use of these macros. Jean-Paul managed his own projects from the initial information-gathering meeting to final print.

I also know Jean-Paul as President of the CRT, of which I have been a member for a number of years.

Jean-Paul has always impressed me by his excellent organisational skills. He is reliable, autonomous and conscientious, uses rigorous working methods and produces excellent documentation.

I highly recommend Jean-Paul for any management position to which he can put his dynamism, enthusiasm and organisational ability to good use.
